The bible says, 'listen to the prophet (believe in them) and you will prosper.' (2 Chronicles 20:20) - Get it? It's like God is saying have the 20:20 vision I provide for you. Can people really hear God's voice? If so, how do we hear God's voice? And when and why and how do we speak it forth in order to remain aligned with God's plan for this gift? This book answers all the questions many people in the Body of Christ have. I've been coaching, counseling and discipling groups and individuals for years. In the coaching process, I have met 'closet prophets' over and over again. Week after week as Christian women leaders engage me for a long term coaching assignment, I speak forth, during our sessions, just the right word at the right time. I've been told, "Anne, you read my mail!". But I don't. I just obediently use a gift God gave me to speak forth God's will for their lives. It can be a timely word of confirmation or a future word of hope, but regardless, it's always a word from Him to edify or exhort his beloved. Many times, when I feel the prompting, the questions form, the words come, or I see and describe a picture and hear an accompanying phrase, I obediently deliver. Usually, on the other end of the phone line, I'll hear laughter, tears, or relief. Hope is renewed, courses are corrected and His beloved can step confidently on track of God's will for their lives. After that this is what I hear next many times: Client: "Can I say something?" Me: Of Course Client: I think I am prophetic...are you?. Me: Yes. What else are you wanting to express? Client: I think I am a ...prophet...but I am in a denomination that doesn't believe in this. They believe in the gift, but not much is done to develop or use it.
